Subscriber Indignant

By LEONARD LYONS

NEW YORK — Look has a letter from an indignant subscriber. She complained that although she's paid up to August 1969, she's received no copies since the first instalment of "Death of a President." . . . "The next copy will have another story by Bill Manchester and I would very much like to receive mine," she wrote.

"No one could be any more anxious to receive the magazine than I. William Manchester is my son. . . ."
